Industrial Automation Supply is an electrical controls and automation components distributor with a focus on serving the Original Equipment Manufacturers market in New England. What began in 1993 as a modest, three-person distributorship has grown into a 25-person business with a dedicated inside sales staff, and a road-tested sales team. IAS is focused on improving the three-way dance of the vendor-distributor-customer relationship. In the over 30 years since founding, IAS has created a foundation that allows us to build significant, long-lasting relationships with our customers - strengthened by our rock-solid partnerships with our vendors.

In 2017 IAS launched a UL 508 Certified systems group to produce custom control panels for our customers, and it has grown to become an integral part of our business. An extension of your busy production floor, you can count on us to help you stay on schedule and keep your customers happy.
